Ike Censures Senate for Rights Action

Calls Jury Trial Rider Bitterly Disappointing

WASHINGTON UP—President Eisenhower today called the Senate's jury trial amendment to his civil rights bill "bitterly disappointing" and a threat to the entire federal judicial system.

In one of the strongest statements to come from the White House in this administration, Eisenhower said that rarely in the legislative history of the United States had so many extraneous issues been introduced in Senate debate "in order to confuse both legislators and the public."

THE SENATE LATE Thursday night passed by a vote of 51 to 42 an amendment guaranteeing jury trial in cases of criminal contempt of court, a provision opposed flatly by the President and Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland.

After discussing the Senate action with his Cabinet this morning, the President said the insertion of a jury trial between a federal judge and his legal orders would "weaken our whole judicial system and particularly the prestige of the federal judiciary."

"IN THIS CASE it will also make largely ineffective the basic purpose of the bill—that of protecting promptly and effectively every American in his right to vote," he said.

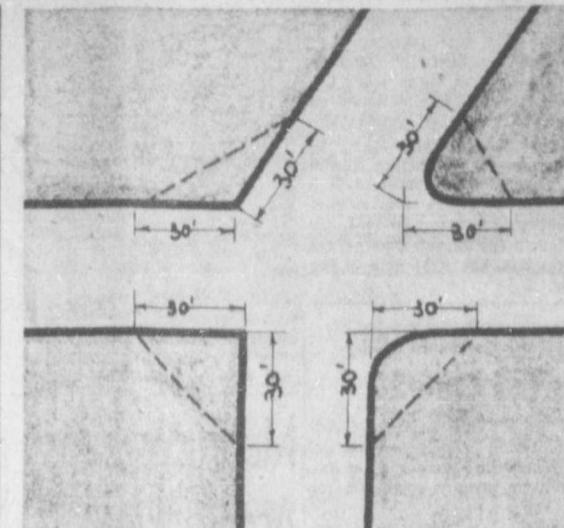

House Republican leaders said Senate amendments probably have killed the chances for enactment of any civil rights law this year. They said the House will not accept the jury trial amendment, especially when coupled with earlier Senate action to confine the bill to voting rights only.

Some Republican congressmen predicted that the House would refuse to go along with the Senate's changes in conference committee.

Four Killed In Riverside Car-Train Crash

RIVERSIDE UP—Four members of a Eureka Kans., family were killed Thursday when their car was rammed broadside by a passenger train traveling 60 miles an hour.

The lone survivor of the accident at a crossing here was the mother, Mrs. Leda Essick. She was reported in "critical condition" in Community Hospital.

TYPICAL CORNERS in the City of Palm Springs are shown above, give citizens an idea of how the new "corner clear zones" will be worked. Both the side street and the front street are measured from the prolongation back 30 feet. A straight line is drawn from the 30 foot mark diagonally across the lot and all area inside this triangle must be kept clear of growth which would obstruct the view of traffic coming from either direction. (Desert Sun Staff Drawing by Jim Schilling).

City Council Directs Action On New Blind Corner Law

With the recommendation of the Palm Springs Safety Council and the City Planning Commission the City Council this week asked that an ordinance be drawn which would regulate the heights of walls and fences in the city.

Proposed originally by the Safety Council, the ordinance, when passed, will cause all corner lots to have a clear area. The council is also expected to pass a law which will make the corner clearance retroactive. (See drawing with story).

THIS WILL MEAN, according to Don Miller, president of the Safety Council, that where trees, cleaners, fences and walls now block the view of approaching traffic, they will have to be removed. The cost of removal of the obstruction will be borne by the city, and/or the property owner.

Sgt. Robert Young of the Police Department appealed to the council to accept the recommendation of the Safety Council and he was followed by similar appeal made by C. Ronald Ellis, Rotary Club president.

Councilman Ted McKinney moved that the city attorney be directed to draw up the laws for council action.

Nuclear Test Postponed Again

LAS VEGAS, Nev. UP—The Atomic Energy Commission has announced the fourth consecutive 24-hour delay because of weather conditions in the firing of the 11th nuclear device of the test series at the Nevada proving grounds.

Hand Grenade Kills 1, Injures 6

PALOMBARA SABINA, Italy UP—One child was killed and six others injured Thursday when a World War II hand grenade exploded among them, officials reported today.

Yesterday's high was 117; low, 70.

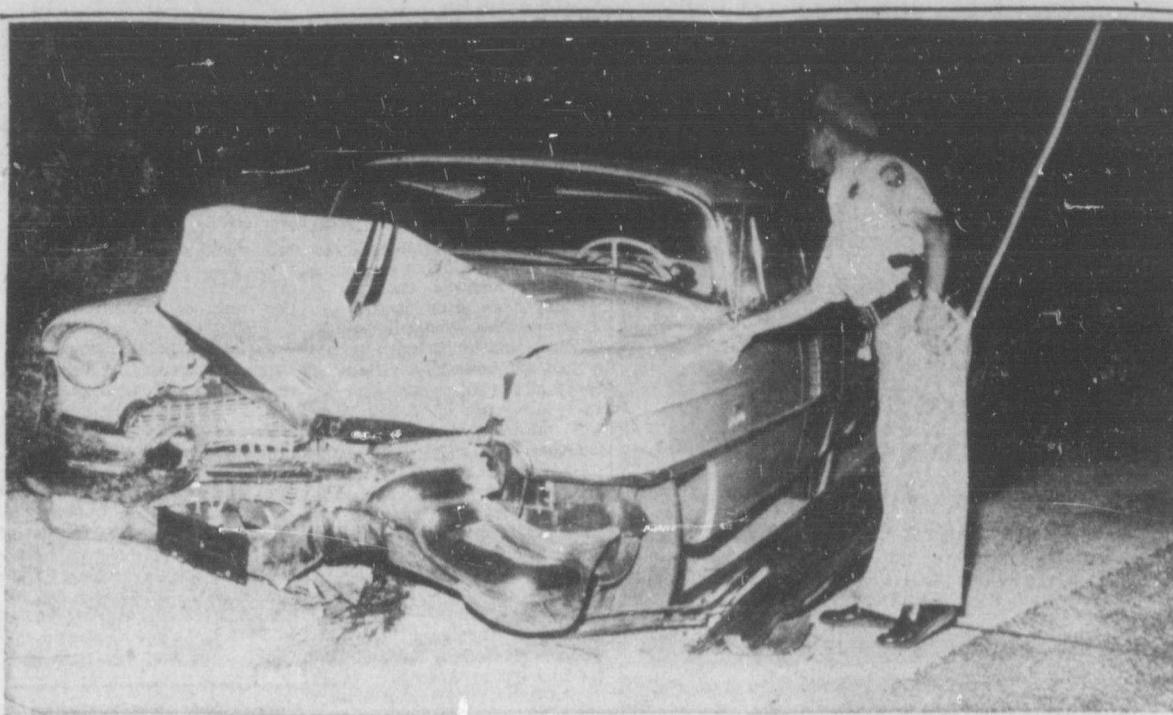

Late News Bulletins

GRAND JUNCTION, Okla. UP—Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton urged Congress today to adopt the administration's long-range mineral program under which the government would aid private industry in developing mineral resources.

WASHINGTON UP—The Senate Rackets Committee called Puerto Rican workers from New York today to back up its chairman's charge that racketeer Johnny Dio exploited them with "sweetheart" contracts.

DOW-JONES 2 p. m. Stock Averages—30 industrials 504.43, off 1.78; 20 railroads 149.08, up 0.34; 15 utilities 69.20, up 0.12, and 65 stocks 174.78, off 0.23.

VIENNA, Ga. UP—Former Senator George is fighting for his life.

DOGGIE IN THE DRIVER'S seat could be the title of the accident report on this North Palm Canyon Drive crash. Daisy Lavonne Winslow, 46, of 1574 Via Soledad, told police she was driving to Los Angeles last night when her dog leaped onto her lap. She went off the road while she tried to shove the dog away and sheared off this telephone pole at its base as she turned back onto the road near the Highway 111 divider, police reported. The woman received a bump on her forehead. Patrolman Robert Davis is shown examining the damaged auto. (Desert Sun Photo).

'Spiciest Show Delayed, Larger Court Needed

HOLLYWOOD UP—The show billed as the spiciest in Hollywood history opened today in Superior Court with such a crowd of stars called to reveal their intimate lives that the first act had to be postponed until a bigger courtroom was available.

Scheduled to start at 9 a.m. p.d.t., the conspiracy trial of Fred and Marjorie Meade, first of actions against the notorious magazines, Confidential and Whisper, had to be put over until 2 p.m.

THAT WAS THE first time in the day that bailiffs found available a court big enough to hold the 135 witnesses from among filmland's elite whose presence dragged out a mob of curious spectators.

The Meades were the first target of authorities attempting to quash the retailing of movieland peccadilloes. Their investigating agency was the collection point in filmland for the naughty gossip about the stars. From them it went to Confidential and Whisper.

They were charged with conspiracy to publish libelous and obscene matter about celebrities.

HOLLYWOOD INDUSTRY sources reportedly were supporting an investigation last spring by the state attorney general's office that resulted in an indictment against the Meades and other officers of the magazines by the county grand jury.

But when the defense disclosed plans for the trial, movieland ran for cover and attempted to halt the proceedings.

Defense attorneys claimed they have subpoenaed more than 100 top movie stars and personalities to ask them under oath if spicy scandal stories in the magazines were "true."

WHAT'S MODEST COMPARED TO FINAL VICTORY?

ESKILTUNA, Sweden UP—Three members of a West German water polo team refused to let decorum stand between them and victory.

They seemed to be having trouble with badly-fitting swim trunks during an exhibition match here Wednesday and solved the problem by taking them off and continuing the game without them.

Spectators, shocked at first, recovered to cheer lustily when the Germans, behind at the time, won the game, 5-3.

Communist Leader Ousted By U.S. Party

NEW YORK UP—Eugene Dennis and John Gates have consolidated their control in the 64-member Communist party by squeezing William Z. Foster, former national chairman, out of the new "collective" high command that will guide the vanishing fortunes of American Communism until 1959.

Foster, whose 23-year policy of following Moscow uncritically was discredited at the Communist national convention in January, had been elected to the high command, an 11-man temporary administrative committee, at the same convention.

Today the party revealed that a permanent committee of seven "secretaries" had been set up and Foster had been dropped.

BOTH DENNIS, former general secretary of the party, and Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, were listed in the party announcement as holding the two most important secretarialships on the administrative committee.

Marilyn Monroe Loses Baby, Undergoes Operation

NEW YORK UP—Actress Marilyn Monroe, 31, lost her baby Thursday night, nearly eight months before its expected birth. The childless wife of playwright Arthur Miller was operated on Thursday night after her six-week complications. The curettage was performed by surgeons at Doctors Hospital.

Miller announced this morning that his wife was "feeling as well as can be expected" and would be confined to the hospital for nine or 10 days. He said she would recuperate at their Long Island summer home.

MISS MONROE was rushed 100 miles to the hospital Thursday afternoon. A hospital spokesman said she was in great pain during the operation and was given a blood transfusion.

Three Bandits Escape With $25,000 from Fullerton Store

FULLERTON, Calif. UP—Three bandits escaped with $25,000 to day after holding up a supermarket and shooting the store manager in the arm and leg, a spokesman said.

The blonde film beauty was expected to be able to leave the hospital in a few days, a hospital spokesman said today.

Prostrate Juniper 'Lay Down on Job' And Prove Effective in Landscaping

"Laying down on the job" is generally frowned upon. Yet, certain varieties of Juniper accomplish things "laying down" that are impossible for upright shrubs.

Amongst among these accomplishments is the excellent ground cover provided by the coniferous creeper. The Juniper is exceptionally attractive as a ground cover both on steep slopes and on level ground. Similarly employed, these pleasing — and very clean — shrubs furnish effective entrance-way specimen plantings, either at doorsteps or along-side driveways.

THE CALIFORNIA Association of Nurserymen points out that architects assign varied tasks to these versatile prostrate junipers because of their many distinctive and unusual forms plus their willingness to thrive even in poor soil.

Root-top gardeners also may make valuable use of prostrate junipers, for they are shallow-rooted plants, ideal for shallow planting boxes.

Dwarf creeping junipers (juniiperus horizontalis procumbens) are welcome additions to California Rock gardens. Color-wise, their bluish-green and bluish-gray colors provide eye-catching contrast to varicolored rocks.

FOR A LOW-SLUNG accent around swimming pools, the creeping junipers are an ideal selection.

Home Beauty Enhanced by Fixture Trends

Newest trends in fixture design and location are bringing refreshing new brightness to home interiors.

Once a fixture was a garish, glaring object placed smack-dab in the middle of a ceiling.

But today, according to the American Home Lighting Institute, a fixture is a softly-adiant, smartly styled home furnishing that is placed anywhere that light is needed—on walls and even in corners.

FIXTURES ARE bigger than they once were, and they're more flexible, too. You can turn or adjust them to cast light just where you want it.

"No longer are fixtures 'necessary evils,'" the Institute reports. "Today, they're graceful, decorative accessories in themselves, in addition to providing efficient lighting."

Perhaps the biggest change in the fixture picture is the use of more and more off-center locations. Instead of leaving room edges and corners in the shadows, homemakers are increasing the living space of rooms by putting fixtures in these areas.

WALLS AND WINDOWS are being lighted by fluorescent cornices and valances to push back the edges of the rooms, and to enhance the color, texture, and design of draperies.

Concealed corners, sideboards and art objects are getting light of their own from off-center fixtures suspended above them.

Another big change is taking place in the size of fixtures. Diameters are increasing from 10 and 12 inches to 14, 17, and 18 inches. This permits space for more bulbs, which in turn make the fixture more efficient.

WITH THE INCREASE in size has come the elimination of glare. Properly shielded bulbs keep direct light out of the viewer's eyes, making the lighting more even and pleasant.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Ike, Mike and Mona Lisa

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Senator Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.) is a man of many virtues, but two of them are paramount. One is his hefty book-roll of personal integrity. It enables him to say what he likes with complete immunity from the character-snipe-errs. The second is his Mona Lisa smile. It permits him to murder the opposition with such gaudy aplomb that they hardly feel the death blows.

All this happened in mid-July when Mansfield gave one of those extended foreign policy speeches which he delivers twice or more each session and for which he is becoming justly celebrated. The strange part of the business was Mike assaulted the Eisenhower Administration with accusations that would have been highly censorable in a lesser man.

AND MIKE DID IT all with the sort of a smile that never showed his teeth and which lulled the critics with the efficacy of a siren's song. Mike was anti-Ike, pro-Democrat and pro-Senate, but he was so nice about it that almost nobody noticed.

To describe the President's Foreign Policy, the razor-minded Montanan used such phrases as: "hodge-podge of sterile slogans and fumbling fears... words... words... yet little action... degeneration... ignorance... arbitrary arrogance... press agency... delusion... propaganda."

Had this sort of refined billingsgate come from a different sort of man, the shuddering and the hand-wringing in the critics' circles would have been sight to behold. Senator Mansfield got by with saying things for which many staunch reactionaries and nationalists have been gibeted. Mansfield proposed these policies:

(Hemet News)

An economy drive, currently prevalent in a number of countries, has turned up indirectly some interesting facts about a network of state employees—the county agricultural extension agents.

The Tuolumne county board of supervisors, in an effort to get a better perspective of salaries of officials, instructed its clerk, when preparing the next budget, to list all county officials and the salaries they received. The survey, for purposes of comparison, was to include those officials whose salaries were paid in part or in full by agencies other than the county.

All went well with the survey until the extension agent was approached. He explained that his salary was paid by the extension service, through the University of California, and, according to the town's newspaper, the Sonora Union-Democrat, refused to disclose his salary.

The next move was up to the county and the district attorney was called in. He contacted extension service headquarters in Berkeley and reportedly ran into a temporary stone wall of secrecy. However, as district attorneys have a way of doing, he finally got his information.

It's easy to imagine the supervisors' surprise when they learned that the salary of the farm advisor in Tuolumne county was $10,090 a year—the highest paid to any official in the county other than the superior judge.

Prior to the recent session of the legislature, when some possible slight salary increases might have been granted to Tuolumne officials, the salary picture for elected officials was as follows: county superintendent of schools, $6500; supervisors, $4200; district attorney, $5400, and auditor, $3520.

Thus the farm advisor's salary, if not out of line in general, certainly appears to be on the top-heavy side, when compared with salaries of other officials in the county who presumably handle about the same type of workload, according to population, as does the farm advisor.

BRING THE BOYS Home: "I believe a concerted effort must be made to reduce the size of official establishments overseas—both military and civilian. Not only are these establishments costly in a monetary sense, but we can and are building an undercurrent of resentment toward this country in many countries."

abolish the Knock-Kneed Policy: "I believe policy as designed by the Executive Department has reflected too heavily the fearful... A policy that emphasizes fear and ignores this (American) spirit does no justice to the people of the United States."

Cut Out the Crisis-Crying: "(Fear) is the principal reason why the policies of the nation are looked upon so often as essentially negative... We may well ask ourselves whether or not that is the principal reason why, after the expenditure of $60 billion on foreign aid and hundreds of billions on defense, security still eludes us; why a sense of living on the edge of doom has not ceased to haunt the nation."

QUIT TRYING to Buy Friendship: "The leadership of the present generation (seems to have) sacrificed the greatness of this nation on an altar of irresponsible fear... Think back to the treaties of peace, to mutual security, to NATO, to the Information programs, to the innumerable aid-programs, the Middle-East restoration, and even to the Atomic Energy Agency Statute... Was not the grim spectre raised in justification of them all?... Indeed, has not that motivation, the motivation of fear, almost invariably... been made to swamp virtually every other consideration?"

Stop the Give-away: "The time has come, it seems to me, to establish a very close link between the destination of Aid Funds and the willingness of the recipients to contribute."

GET OUT OF the Arms Mart: "The more arms are supplied to that (Middle-East) region, the more instability is induced... That is the formula the Soviet Union used... I should very much like to see this country... alter it."

There are many places in the script where Mansfield bluntly implies that the Senate saved the country from the administration's mistakes. In this mission of rescue it was most often, according to Mansfield, Democratic Senators who did the heroic work.

It is true that he gives honorable mention to Republican Leader Knowland and to two ranking Republicans on the Foreign Relations Committee, Wiley and Hickenlooper. But over against these he sounds off in praise of 11 Democrats, calling special attention to the "rational approach" of Fulbright and Humphrey, "the brilliant dissenters" of Russell, Morse and Long, the "logic" of Kennedy, the "initiative" of Johnson, our "incalculable debt" to Anderson, Pastore and Gore.

THESE IS NOTHING whatever in the Mansfield address that a Democratic Senator should not say, and very little with which most Americans would not agree. But the idea that this was a non-partisan speech, accentuating the positive and offering only "advice and consent" to the White House is poppycock.

Mike Mansfield was not merely making a speech. He was, I think, serving notice that he and the Senate—and particularly the Democratic members of the Senate—intended to make some foreign policies of their own.

I just knew it would happen and have been waiting. Every summer something like this pops up in Palm Springs. This year it's a debate about the relative symmetry of legs here and in Salt Lake City.

Men's, yet.

ACCORDING to The Desert Sun, Jimmy Cooper of the Chamber of Commerce and Fred Ingram of the Bank of America, are matching their net worths against those of the Salt Lake City C. of C. manager. All because a Salt Lake City columnist printed derogatory remarks about the legs of two of our illustrious citizens.

The Utah writer recently visited Palm Springs and when he got home, rushed into type with some snide remarks about how the legs of our chief booster and our banker looked protruding from shorts.

That guy was wasting his opportunities. How come he noted THEIR legs?

GOING BEYOND the call of dutiful reporting, the Salt Lake City columnist even said that our banker's limbs revealed varicose veins.

Although I have never peeked at Mr. Ingram's legs, I am going to deny that latter charge categorically. And I'll stick to that doggedly. The explanation is simple.

Sure, Mr. Ingram has veins. Where else would the ice water run? That's perhaps why they are so blue, too.

NOW AS FOR our Mr. Cooper—I haven't had a gander at his gams, either, but would say, off-hand, that perhaps he had better disqualify himself.

He has been riding a horse for so long and wearing cowboy boots all of that time, that maybe Salt Lake City could find a flaw.

Stand him next to a 'K' and he'd give the symbol that everything was all right.

(P. S.—I really don't mean that, James.)

HAVEN'T HEARD lately about the proposal to entice a major league baseball team to train here at the Polo Grounds. Or any other league team. That, I think, is something to be kept in mind.

Not only will it provide entertainment but also aid in publicity.

If Brooklyn does move to Los Angeles, I believe they are in for a disappointment.

LOS ANGELES is much bigger than Milwaukee where the Boston Braves moved and immediately set, and are still setting, attendance records.

In Milwaukee (the Braves' success is cited as an argument for moving the Bums to Los Angeles) there isn't much else to do besides going to the ball park.

In Los Angeles during the summer, there's Hollywood Park, Del Mar, big-time tennis, golf, the beaches, countless other attractions.

Maybe they could get them out to the ball park if they installed nail-cutting machines.

Who will be next? Whose life must ebb away because of this high speed nonsense? Fifty miles an hour will get you there—alive! You can save time to the graveyard—at 60, 70, 80 or 90.

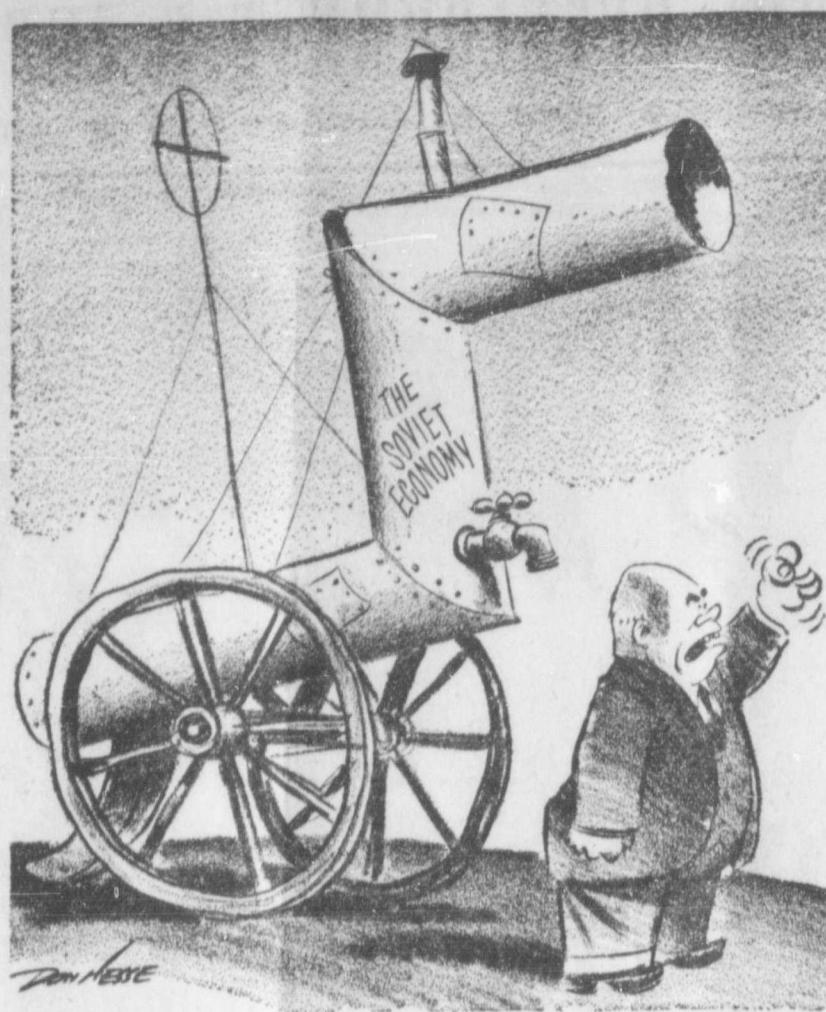

Schools or Expenses

(Scranton, Iowa, Journal)

Democrat Thurman made the telling point that the USA had nowhere to get the dough for building school houses but from the States—and he wasn't proved wrong when he said 40 per cent of the collection would rub off in Washington and never get into brick and mortar.

Thus the farm advisor's salary, if not out of line in general, certainly appears to be on the top-heavy side, when compared with salaries of other officials in the county who presumably handle about the same type of workload, according to population, as does the farm advisor.

I just knew it would happen and have been waiting. Every summer something like this pops up in Palm Springs. This year it's a debate about the relative symmetry of legs here and in Salt Lake City.

But the Spanish conquistadors who built their capital on the site of the Aztec capital were better fighters than builders. They neglected to fill in adequately the Aztec canals and to drain the swampy island, in the center of what was once a large lake, on which the Indians had located their chief city.

Now, more than 400 years after the defeat of the great Aztec Empire, the Aztecs are having their revenge. Many of Mexico City's splendid architectural treasures, such as the tremendous Metropolitan Cathedral and the National Palace of Fine Arts, are slowly sinking into the earth.

Part of the facade of the cathedral, whose size is exceeded only by St. Peter's in Rome and St. Paul's in London, visibly leans to windward.

Once both the cathedral and the glistening Palace of Fine Arts, built of white Italian marble, were approached by impressive flights of steps. But the steps have long since sunk from sight and the two vast buildings are entered from street level or slightly below.

Probably no other capital has such a large and active sinking fund, and for good cause. The city fathers are doing everything possible to keep their architectural treasures from disappearing into the earth, while the city's modern architects are employing the most ingenious means, including great hydraulic springs, to support the city's new skyscrapers.

Although I have never peeked at Mr. Ingram's legs, I am going to deny that latter charge categorically. And I'll stick to that doggedly. The explanation is simple.

Sure, Mr. Ingram has veins. Where else would the ice water run? That's perhaps why they are so blue, too.

NOW AS FOR our Mr. Cooper—I haven't had a gander at his gams, either, but would say, off-hand, that perhaps he had better disqualify himself.

He has been riding a horse for so long and wearing cowboy boots all of that time, that maybe Salt Lake City could find a flaw.

Stand him next to a 'K' and he'd give the symbol that everything was all right.

(P. S.—I really don't mean that, James.)

HAVEN'T HEARD lately about the proposal to entice a major league baseball team to train here at the Polo Grounds. Or any other league team. That, I think, is something to be kept in mind.

Not only will it provide entertainment but also aid in publicity.

If Brooklyn does move to Los Angeles, I believe they are in for a disappointment.

LOS ANGELES is much bigger than Milwaukee where the Boston Braves moved and immediately set, and are still setting, attendance records.

In Milwaukee (the Braves' success is cited as an argument for moving the Bums to Los Angeles) there isn't much else to do besides going to the ball park.

In Los Angeles during the summer, there's Hollywood Park, Del Mar, big-time tennis, golf, the beaches, countless other attractions.

Maybe they could get them out to the ball park if they installed nail-cutting machines.

Who Will Play Jean Harlow In Movie? Unknown Has Edge

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Who should portray the late Jean Harlow in the movie about her tragic life?

Fans who cherish the memory of the first of the platinum blondes are suggesting everybody from Ann Southern to Jayne Mansfield. But producer Jerry Wald, who's filming the story of the actress of New York and Hollywood for an unknown actress—and she doesn't have to be blonde.

"We get hundreds of letters every week from around the country," said Wald, leafing through the mail on his desk. "They suggest Lucille Ball, Ann Sheridan, Janet Leigh, Carroll Baker, Marilyn Monroe, Terry Moore.

"I AM LOOKING for an actress, but a little known one. Then the audience won't anticipate what she'll do. And the unknown doesn't have to have blonde hair. What I'm looking for is internal fire. The make-up department will take care of the rest."

The movie, the way Wald outlines it, will be a revealing study of a sex siren of the screen—what kind of a person she really is, and the problems her sexy screen personality brings to her life.

"This script will touch on a lot of local nerves," he said. "These stars all run to the same pattern. Insecurity, fright. They think they'd better get the money fast because they don't think they'll last."

"DID YOU EVER notice how they keep making up their faces? That shell of cosmetics covers up their fright.

"Their worst problem is that men think they're as sexy off-screen as on. Men marry them for what they are in the movies—not as human women with ordinary problems. That's why their marriages don't last."

"Jean Harlow married Paul Bern because she thought he was one man who didn't expect her to be as she was in 'Hell's Angels.'"

Bern committed suicide after

Gripes of Women Listed. Every Subject Is Covered

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UPI)—It is woman's privilege to complain as well as to change her mind. These days, several of us are complaining.

Paris started us off this week when some of its pace-setting designers raised hemlines nearly to the knees. Didn't hear any of the men around our office griping, but general comment among the women was: "Why don't they leave skirt lengths alone?"

WHY DON'T THEY, for instance, make transition cottons in lighter weight fabrics so we women can transit into fall in comfort? See-tember in many parts of this country has its days in the 90's.

Why don't all clothing manufacturers sew snaps and buttons on to stay? Would save a lot of repair time and lost buttons. Come to think of it, why don't they provide extra buttons with all garments, just in case.

Why don't they:

Attach white collars and cuffs to dress or suit with snaps instead of stitching them on loosely. Remove for laundering would be easier.

Make routine alterations in women's clothing without charge, as they do for men.

MAKE PURSE-SIZE dispensers for hair spray.

Revive the old-fashioned curling iron for a quick pick-up for a hair-do, especially on a rainy day.

Keep up-to-date magazines in beauty shops.

Stock bathing suits and other stock swimwear in the stores at least through July.

Eliminate the scent from powders, rouges and lipsticks, and let a girl's favorite perfume have a chance instead of doing battle with all the other odors.

Make lipsticks with a flattened tip. Most of us get nearly to the bottom of the tube before we get the lipstick shaped to our liking.

County Officials To Be Required To List Phones

All elected and appointed officials of Riverside County will in the future be required to have telephones listed in the phone book, the board of supervisors decreed this week at the suggestion of Supervisor William Jones.

Jones said certain county officials now have unlisted phones. He said the public should be able to reach public officials at their homes.

"You're aiming at me," charged Supervisor Paul Anderson, board chairman. "I have an unlisted phone because of the health of my wife. My wife means a lot to me and I'll not have her disturbed unnecessarily."

ANDERSON AND his wife were both injured in an automobile accident in May and Mrs. Anderson is still recuperating and unable to walk very much.

"I also have an extension phone in my home from my office phone," continued Anderson, "and I can be reached at that number at any time. It is not yet shown in the phone book as my home phone, but it will be in the new book. It is located in my home in a place where it will not disturb Mrs. Anderson. The unlisted phone is used for my calls to her."

Jones denied that he was aiming his remarks at Anderson. He said he had tried to call Chief Building Inspector C. G. Bixel and found that he does not have a listed phone.

SUPERVISOR FRED McCall said he knows that some of the road department employees don't have listed phones. "Every employee of this county should have a listed phone," he declared.

Asked whether the phone requirement would be legal, County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., commented that it would not be illegal but that the county might be called upon to pay for part of the phone installation cost in a case where an official had neither a listed nor an unlisted phone but would be required now to have one.

Knight Starts Fourth Week Of Band Parade

Disc Jockey Guy Knight is now beginning his fourth week with his "Parade of the Bands" on KCMJ.

The popular platter program features a different big name band each night from 10:30 to 11.

Knight draws on his "private stock" of rare and out of print recordings, presenting such artists as Goodman, Shaw, Miller, the Dorsey's, Krupa, Barnet and many other big bands in the swing idiom.

Deer On the Loose

ROSCILARE, Ill. — (UP) — A new type of traffic hazard was reported here. A frightened deer ran wildly up Main Street, narrowly missing a woman pedestrian before banging into a jewelry store front.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK 48 — Jack Sanford of the Phillies and Tony Kubek of the Yankees appear to day to have Rookie of the Year honors locked up but the rest of the post-season awards still are wide open.

Sanford, the 28-year old "boy" wonder who finally made the big league grade after 10 years, could emerge from the campaign with more medals than a revolutionary general. If he keeps going, and should the Phillies come on to win the pennant, he might take honors in three departments.

In such a case, the blond New England speedball pitcher conceivably could capture Rookie of the Year, Most Valuable Player and Most Valuable Pitcher honors in a clean sweep.

SANFORD, WHO learned to control his curve ball to post 14 victories to date against only three defeats, apparently will have to top Billy Pierce of the White Sox for pitching honors and Hank Aaron of the Braves for Most Valuable acclaim.

Pierce, with a 15-7 pitching mark, is Sanford's closest competitor for the Most Valuable Pitcher honors. This bit of business won't be settled until the race is run. Aaron, making a triple crown bid in batting average, homers and runs batted in, is the man Sanford has to beat for the Most Valuable Player Award.

SANFORD, HOWEVER, seems far in front of such rookie candidates as first base teammate Ed Bouchee, third baseman Ed Kasko and pitcher Von McDaniel of the Cards, Dick Drott of the Cubs, Danny McDevitt of the Dodgers and Dick Farrell of the Phils.

Kubek appears far and away the best of an American League rookie crop which does not shape up as strong as the National League group. The six-foot, three-inch 21-year-old is hitting close to the .300 mark and has been a valuable part of the Yankee in field.

IN THE RUNNING against him are such as pitcher Ralph Terry and outfielder Woody Held of Kansas City, Roger Maris of Cleveland, Jim Landis and Bill Fischer of the White Sox and Larry Raines of the Indians.

When it comes to the American League's most valuable race, most baseball observers are inclined to hand the plumb to the Yankees' Mickey Mantle without waiting for final results.

Yet, as of the moment, "old man" Ted Williams is making a determined run at him with a hot stick. The odds are that the Yankees will win the pennant and this always is a major factor in final selection of the most valuable player.

Schick Fans 14 As M&M Scores Win Over Stars

Fourteen batters fell under the fast ball of Pitcher Wayne Schick last night as M & M-Lehrfeld clubbed out a 9-5 win over Palm Desert's All Stars* at the Polo Grounds.

Schick's strike-out spree turned the tables on what looked like an easy Palm Desert victory after the All Stars tallied five runs on five hits in the first two innings, leading 5-2.

But the Stars, paced by Jerry Murphy's two-run homer in the first frame, ran out of steam as M&M lashed out two runs in the third, four in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Next game for the M&M-Lehrfeld sluggers is a Wednesday night card with Mexican Colony in the Desert Softball League Playoffs.

20-GAME WINNER - - - By Alan Mauer

SINCE JIM PITCHED 53 INNINGS IN 1956 (WON 5 LOST) HE'S NO DOUBT NOT ELIGIBLE FOR ROOKIE HONORS, BUT HE WAS A FRESHMAN AS FAR AS ALL-STAR GAMES WERE CONCERNED WHEN HE HURLED THOSE 3 PERFECT INNINGS TO GET CREDIT FOR THE WIN.

Forty Niners Have New Look--Beefy Forward Line

SAN FRANCISCO 48 — "For the first time since the organization of the Forty Niners," said one of the coaches is Jim Cox, the 6-3, '95-pound end from Cal Poly. This is the boy picked by former Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy a year ago as one of the great football players in the country hidden by the fact that he was playing for a small school.

The competition has been so fierce during the first week of training among the rookies that several have packed their bags and headed home after one work-out.

"They weren't injured and they weren't told to go home," said one of the coaches. "They just saw that the other boys were bigger, faster or had more solid football backgrounds."

Golfing With ALEX MORRISON

Pro John Bulla, at the top of his swing with an iron club, has his eye and mind on the ball ready to swing down aggressively.

IN THE SWING proper there are just two points where you get off the track.

The first is when the clubhead starts back from the ball.

The second is when starting the downswing. Obviously, you can set yourself up wrong, virtually forcing yourself to be wrong in starting your backswing, but here we assume that you're lined up fairly well to begin with.

The instant you make the slightest movement with any part of your body or club to start your backswing you have largely determined how your whole swing must go. You may not sense that you are on or off the right track until well along in your backswing. Then it is too late to properly correct any wrong.

Likewise, the very first move you make starting your downswing determines how you'll strike the ball.

Following a good starting position the best organizer for your whole swing is holding your head steady.

Musial Passes Cobb, Cards 1st

Stan Moves Into Third In Records

St. Louis Holds Percentage Point Lead in National

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
Stan Musial passed Ty Cobb today and the St. Louis Cardinals entered into the spirit of the occasion by passing Milwaukee to take over first place by two percentage points over the idle Braves.

All this passing was accomplished when the Cardinals defeated the Giants, 8-0, Thursday night to take over first place by two percentage points over the idle Braves.

The 36-year-old Musial supplied most of the impetus with a perfect night at the plate that included a pair of two-run homers and two singles.

STAN THE MAN passed Cobb, with his second homer of the game in the sixth inning. The blow, his 24th circuit of the season, was the 1,140th extra base hit of his career and put him in third place ahead of the Georgia Peach in that department. Only Babe Ruth, with 1,356 extra base hits, and Lou Gehrig, with 1,190, are ahead of Musial.

Sam Jones limited the Giants to six hits in registering his ninth victory. It was the Cards' sixth straight win.

IN THE ONLY other National League game scheduled, Cincinnati nipped Philadelphia, 4-3, and Brooklyn mauled Chicago, 12-3. Detroit defeated Boston, 7-5, and Washington beat the White Sox, 5-4, in the only two American League games scheduled.

The Redlegs beat the Phillips with a three-run rally in the eighth inning. Until the eighth, southpaw Curt Simmons had a 3-1 lead, built with the help of homers by Stan Lopata and Rip Repulski. Johnny Klippstein was the winner in relief of Brooks Lawrence.

THE EXHIBITION program will close Sept. 22 when the Giants visit the Detroit Lions and the San Francisco Forty-Niners play at the University of Redwood at Seattle, Wash.-x.

The Grey Cup champion Edmonton Eskimos and the Vancouver Lions of the Canadian League will play Canadian football in Portland, Ore., next Friday, and in San Francisco Aug. 11.

THIS IS ONE of the few times the Canadian brand of the game ever has been put on display in this country — although a couple of years ago the Eastern Canadian games were telecast on a U.S. network.

The Canadians firmly believe that their brand of the game is superior to that of the 11-man American style. It is faster, more wide-open, there's more room to maneuver on the big field, they claim with a stumping 11-6 victory.

The Desert Ponies trailed 3-2 as they walked into the ninth inning of the first game in league playoffs with the Pinto Leaguers, but the easterners were holding their best for last.

They uncorked eight runs in the last frame.

Ken Crabtree opened by blasting a double across the left field boards. Crabtree trotted home on singles by Tony Gomez and Mike Carter.

It was the end for Pinto Pitcher Wendy Halterman and his strikeout duel with Larry Rubidoux, and Manager Jim Rowe sent Dave Phelps to the mound.

But the Ponies were just warming up. Duggy Duran squeezed out a bunt and Don Ingram rapped out a single to usher in the seventh run and usher out Phelps.

Hurler Lando Darling fared no better and his third pitch sizzled over the center field fence a long 250-feet away.
